CONVOCATION

On October 14, 1975 the Aggie's were entertained by Dr. John Clarke a Black Historian at Convocation. We were inspired by his message on the Bicentennial.

September 17, 1975, Alvin Attles, head coach of the champion Golden State Warriors, spoke before a capacity crowd for the fall semester convocation in Moore Gymnasium.

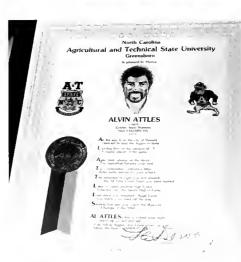

The mayor of Greensboro had proclaimed the day as "Alvin Attles Day", and the festival occasion was highlighted by the dominant Aggie spirit.

Attles attributed his success to the excellent background he had received here at A&T.

SPECIAL EFFECTS FOR SPECIAL PEOPLE

If Aggies see no evil, hear no evil, and speak no evil, what do Aggies do?

Aggies are a special people who create special effects as they move. Constantly progressing in different directions they set a mood of their own. Aggies are individuals that modify their strengths and purposes to stand behind the blue and gold.

COACH WARREN REYNOLDS in three seasons as head basketball coach, here at A & T, has captured two Mid Eastern Athletic Conference Championships In 1974-75 he was honored by his peers as the "Coach of the Year" and was also awarded "Top Tournament Coach" In convincing style, Coach Reynolds has definitely answered the challenge since taking over as head coach at North Carolina A & T State University four years ago. His overall record at A & T is 67-32 He leads the Aggies to the MEAC Tournament in first position, tired with Morgan State The rest will be history.

ASSISTANT COACH AL CARTER, a 1973 graduate of North Carolina A & T State University, was a former cage standout for the Aggies and a vital player on two of the Aggies MEAC Championships Besides his coaching duties. Carter is responsible for scouting and recruiting, two very important jobs in a successful program

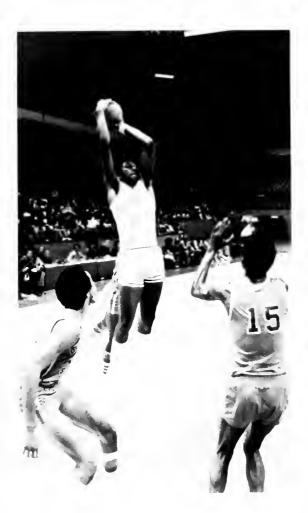

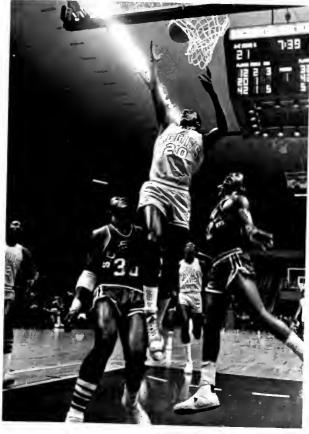

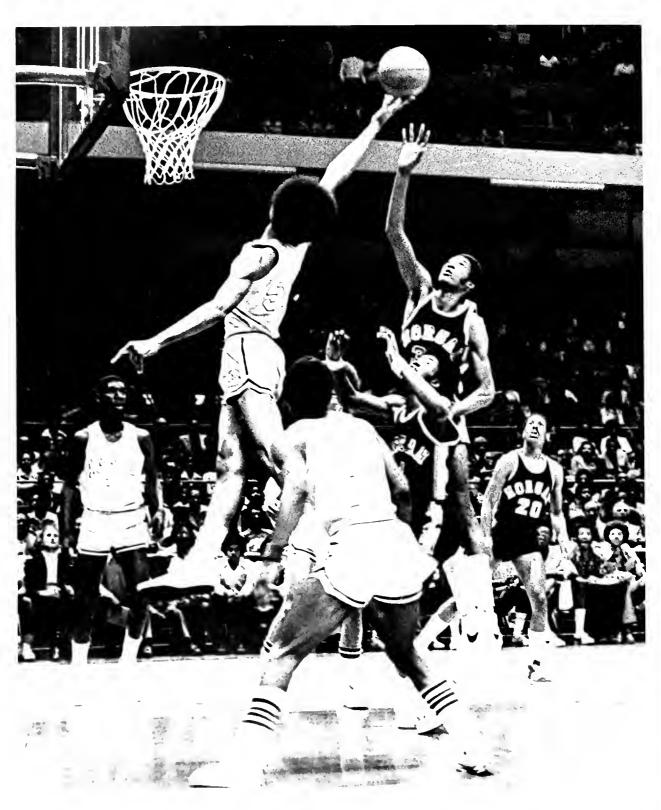

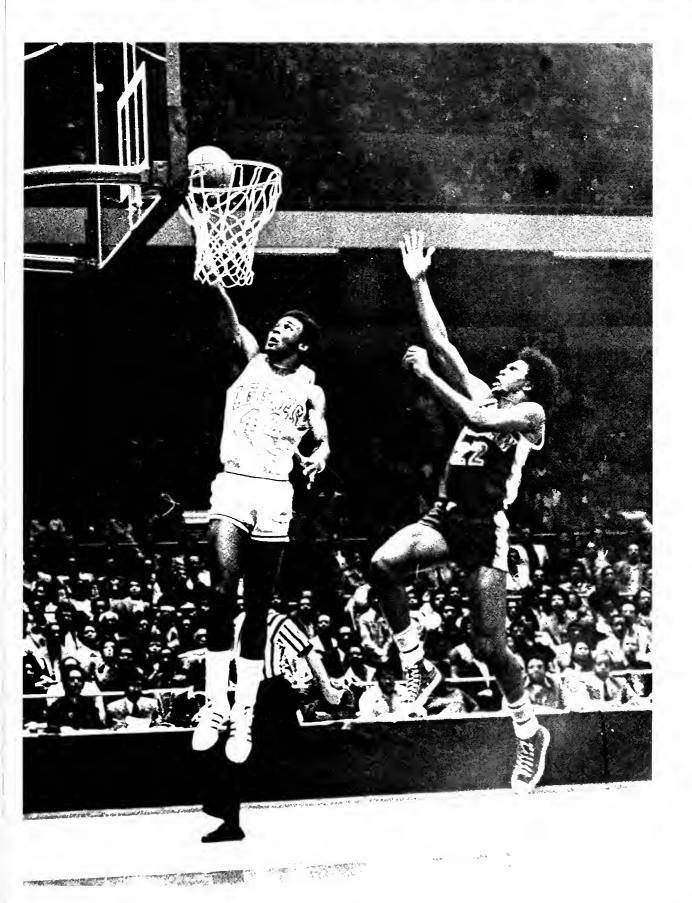

AGGIES WIN THE MEAC DEFEATING MORGAN STATE 83 to 77

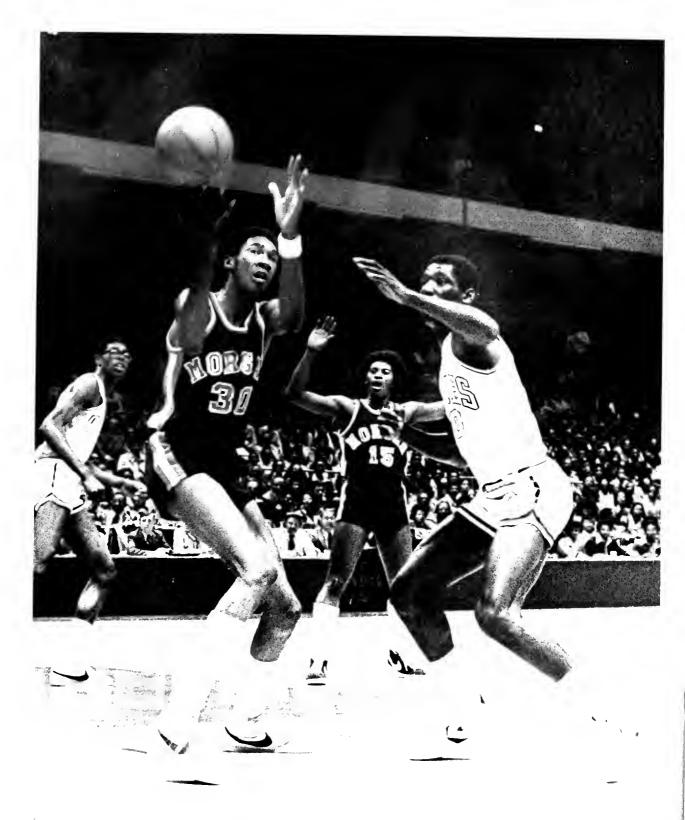

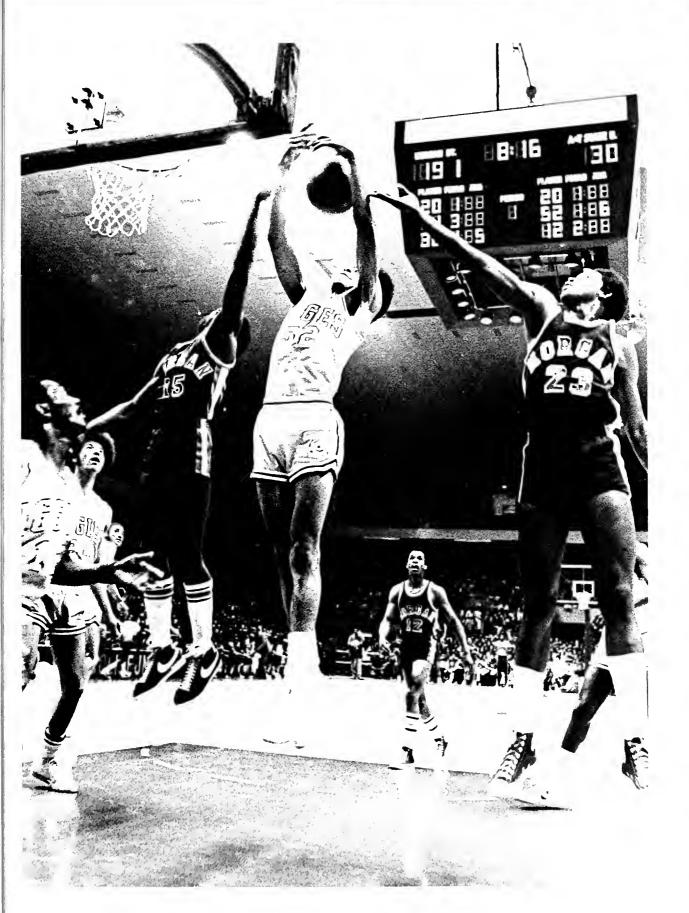

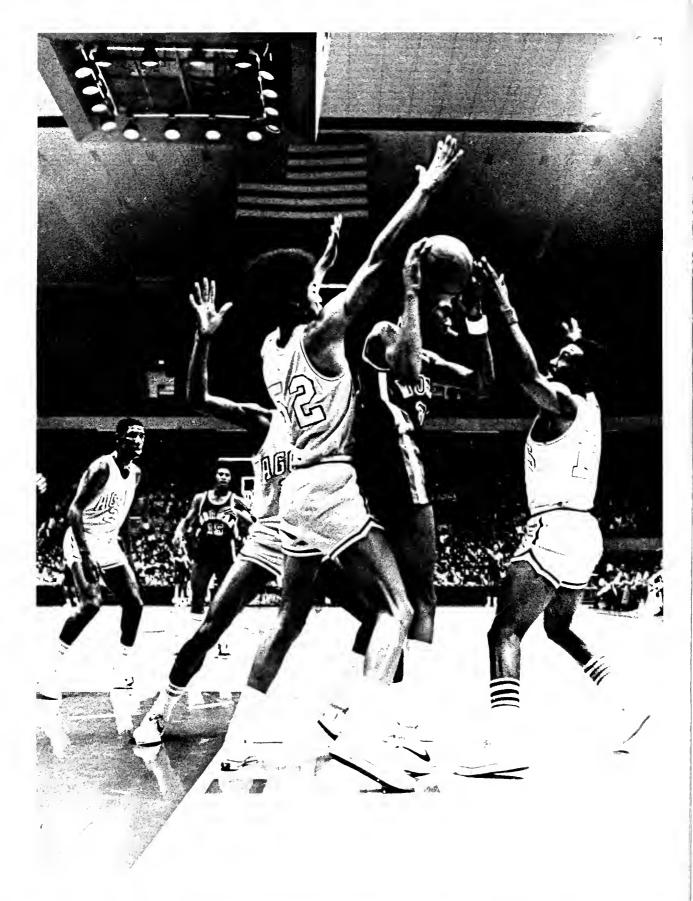

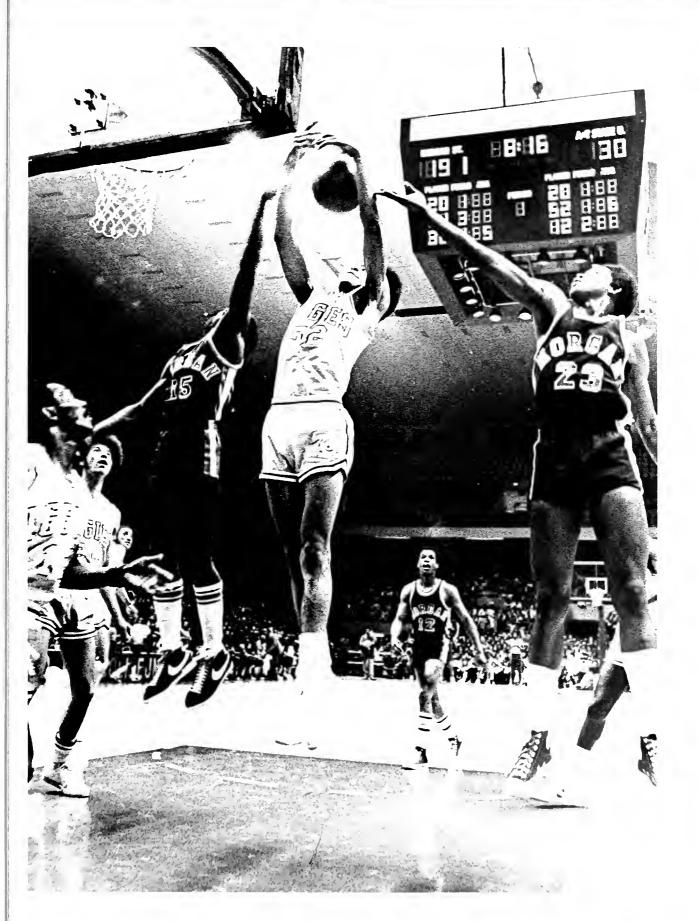

Marshall Colson presents Dr. Maceo Nance and Dr. Hunter with the Overall Team Championship Award for South Carolina State.

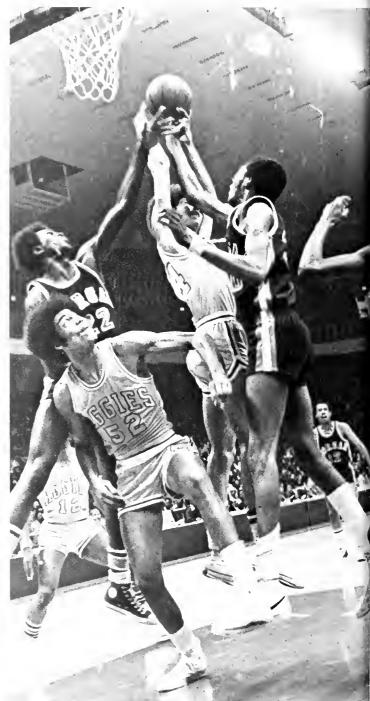

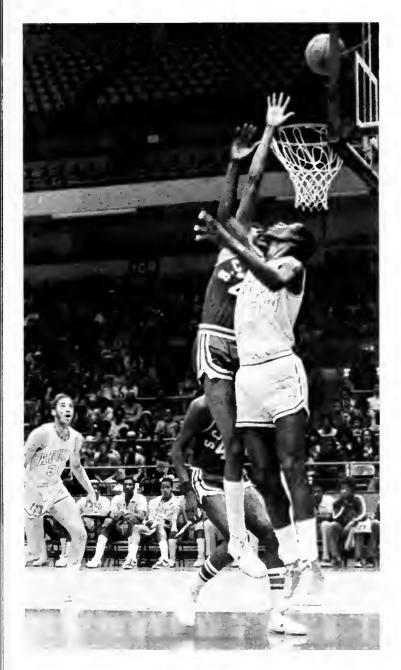

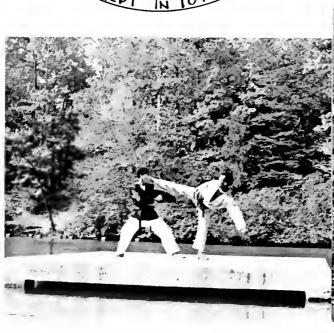

Can you supply the appropriate answers?

- Did A & T win the MEAC Tournament?
- Did Dr. Dowdy present James Sparrow (the Bird) the plaque for being named the "Most Valuable Player" of the MEAC?
- Did Sparrow score 89 points in the three games, breaking the MEAC Tournament scoring record?
- Did Ron Johnson and James Sparrow make the first tournament team?
- Did Sinclair Colbert make the second tournament team?
- Was Coach Warren Reynolds named the "Outstanding Tournament Coach?"
- Was the MEAC Tournament held in Greensboro, North Carolina at the Greensboro Coliscum?
- Did the A & T Basketball team receive an invitation to the National Invitational Tournament (NIT)?

(Of course all answers are yes)

What have we to celebrate? The same inequalities and gross in justices that have faced Blacks in 1976 still face us today. But where you ask? And I answer, look in the forest my brothers and sisters, not at the forest and you will see how carefully White America has thrown rocks and hid its hands throughout the past 200 years. Look deep and see the freedom preachers who vowed to live by a Declaration of Independence that said "all men are created equal; that they are endemed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights; life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness." And, yet these same persons that constructed such a declaration saw fit to take such unalienable rights from millions of Blacks. Maybe they felt we were not created equal. But things have changed since then you say. And my reply to that is changed, yes, but only on the surface. Once again I ask you, look deep and see White America's tricks to circumvent Blacks into thinking all is well. For by looking deep you will discover that the slavery that existed a hundred years ago has changed form. The chains are gone, and so are the whips and plantations but just as the automobile has taken the place of the horse, the chains, whips, and plantations have been replaced by welfare, subpar housing, and political oppression. The slavery is now sophistocated to fit the sophisticated needs of White America. And because of this sophistication many Blacks believe the fallacy that America is the land of the free. A Black man or women should not think that he or she is free because of education, money, or other luxuries. Freedom is not measured by these material things alone. By looking deep you will see that right down the street from you there are other Black people who are on welfare and receive constant oppression because of this fact. The truth is you will never be free until Black people all over this country are free. A chain is only as strong as its weakest link. When July 4, 1976 arrives, let Blacks everywhere in this land join in one big prayer giving thanks to God for the adament willpower he has given us to keep on keepin on. Then let us ask him to give us strength to push forward and acumen to see a brighter day. As for the other people in this country, well . . . let them calebrate, but we cannot afford to. When we finish our bridge, then let us calebrate. "We have promises to keep-- And miles to go before we sleep - And miles to go before we sleep. (Opinion of a student, not necessarily that of the University)

As editor of the Ayantee Yearbook time and experience permits me to thank, from the bottom of my heart, Charles Freeman, Wright Raiford, James Johnson, and Charles Gorham for sticking with the yearbook and myself until completion. Without your company and understanding the 1976 Ayantee Yearbook would have been at a lost.

For those that were on the staff and made promises you did not bother to keep, assumed responsibilities that you failed to carry out, and those who received something for no services rendered; I say to you, DO NOT return in the fall. A working staff has no place for you.

If your name fails to appear on the staff list it is because you have contributed no help to the production of the 1976 Ayantee Yearbook.

Rachel L. Thrower, Editor-In-Chief
